Karen: Has the blizzard hit you yet?
me: not sure, just woke up
me: doesn't look like much snow
Karen: well, apparently it's heading your way today. aren't you glad you got your laundry and grocery shopping done! hope you got some good snacking stuff!
me: indeed I did
Karen: you know that's my first priority for a snow day -- lots of good things to eat.
Karen: we're actually supposed to have snow here tomorrow!
me: weird
Karen: yup, so i got cider and stuff for s'mores in case the electricity goes out i can roast marshmallows in the fireplace :)
me: very clever Karen: you need to send me pictures of your apartment. in your spare time :)
Karen: or is it yep? i like yup better.
me: both are acceptable
